LG ELECTRONICS CONTINUES TECHNOLOGICAL DOMINANCE WITH WIDE RANGE OF AWARDS AND ACCOLADES AT CES 2026

LG earns widespread recognition for groundbreaking innovations spanning multiple categories

ENGLEWOOD CLIFFS, N.J., January 29, 2026 —LG Electronics, the brand synonymous with Life's Good, cemented its continued role as an industry leader with a commanding performance at this year's Consumer Electronics' Show (CES). LG collected more than 139 industry awards and accolades including several highly coveted Best of CES™ 2026 awards, which are voted on by leading tech journalists from CNET, PCMag, Mashable, ZDNET and Lifehacker.

Highlights include: the Wallpaper TV, or LG OLED evo W6, earning Best Design at CES from Tom's Guide, praised for its 9mm thickness and wireless connectivity. TechRadar named the LG OLED evo G6 as one of the "Best TVs of CES," celebrating its Hyper Radiant Color Technology and Reflection Free Premium technology. LG Micro RGB evo earned the Reviewed CES 2026 Award for its rich and vibrant color, coupled with its newly upgraded Dual AI Engine-based AI Processor Gen 3. Additionally, Rolling Stone named LG Sound Suite as "Best Home Theater" pick, highlighting its easy accessibility for premium sound.

LG Home Solutions category also received broad recognition at CES 2026, with multiple standout awards highlighting its cutting-edge innovation. LG CLOiD Home Robot earned Gizmodo's "Best of CES: Best Robot," praising its design and functionality. LG Signature highlighted its intelligence, user assistance and premium features. CNET's "The Home Tech Everyone's Buzzing About at CES 2026" accolade went to LG's Signature Washer and Dryer for its speed and efficiency. Additionally, Apartment Therapy recognized LG Signature WashCombo™, praising its ability to save space and time.

Top media outlets such as Business Insider and Washington Post have celebrated LG's groundbreaking products for their impactful design, products and cutting-edge features, further emphasizing LG's impact on consumer technology.
