

Did You Know?

LG Solar

We Have Battery Packs from LG Chem On-hand

Have you ever wanted to supply your customers with an Energy Storage System only to find out there's a long wait? Take heart – we can get an LG Chem battery to you faster as a component of the LG Electronics Energy Storage System.

LG Electronics and LG Chem: Working Together to Provide Energy Storage

LG Electronics is a subsidiary of the global LG Corporation -- just like LG Chem. We have partnered with LG Chem in the development of the LGE ESS. The LG Chem battery is one of our storage system's components. As a result, we have priority in accessing the batteries.

A "One-Stop-Shop" for Warranty Issues

Because all of the components of the LGE ESS are supplied by LG, we will handle any issues that come up during the 10-year warranty. There's no need to call one company about the inverter and another about the battery or the system's software. You and your customers can just call LG – we'll take care of the problem.
